

A Likelihood-based Inference for the Generalized Pareto Distribution

Hideki Nagatsuka

Department of Industrial and Systems Engineering

Chuo University

Abstract

The generalized Pareto distribution (GPD) is widely used to model exceedances over thresholds. In this talk, we address some challenging problems in inference for the GPD and introduce a new general framework of the inference for the GPD, based on a likelihood function.

This is joint work with Narayanaswamy Balakrishnan.