

Sample Correlation for High-Dimensional Data

Tiefeng Jiang

University of Minnesota

Abstract

I will give a brief introduction to the extreme value problem of sample correlation for high-dimensional data. The main tool is Stein Poisson approximation method. I will illustrate the tool by using very basic examples. Finally, I will present some interesting applications.